DISASTROUS FIRE AT KANSAS CITY YARDS

Results in Death of 11,000 Cattle and 3,300 Hogs

Officials of Stock Yards Estimate Loss at Approximately $750,000—Heavy Insurance Carried by Owners.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 16.—Reports that the fire which early this morning destroyed a large portion of the Kansas City stock yards and resulted in the death of approximately 11,000 cattle and 3,300 hogs was of an incendiary origin, persisted late today tho discredited by officials of the corporation owning the yards.

While no definite estimates have as yet been made insurance adjusters and officials of the stock yards corporation place the loss at approximately $750,000 of which $550,000 represents the livestock burned.

Heavy insurance was carried both on the buildings and livestock but the exact amount has not been announced. Investigations were made today by J. E. Marvin, fire warden, and Chief Egner of the Kansas City fire department. Both men believe the blaze was started by some individuals but declare the fire swept area is so devastated that no indications of an incendiary origin could have escaped the flames.

The statement of the officers is based largely upon the assertions of Lieutenant E. J. Bishop of the first fire company to arrive at the yards, who said three fires were burning, fully 2,000 yards apart, in different portions of the yards.

George R. Collett, general manager of the stock yards, declared today that he believed the fire to have resulted from natural causes and that the wind had blown sparks from the first fire.

SHIPYARDS EMPLOYES MAY BE EXEMPT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—In order to make certain the carrying out of its great shipbuilding program of 1,000,000 tons by March 1 and some 13,000,000 tons in the next two years, the shipping board is considering recommending exemption from military service for all men employed in shipyards. Chairman Hurley conferred tonight with President Wilson and this matter is understood to have been discussed. The government's requirements for both merchant and war vessels have created a great demand for workers. Sufficient skilled men are not available and new men must be trained. Officials of the board think that men thus trained should be granted military exemption as the shipbuilding problem is a most essential one to the conduct of the war.

MINERS' STRIKE PARALYZE ILLINOIS COAL MINES

Coal Mining Industry at Practical Standstill

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 16.—More than fifty coal mines in central and southern Illinois, representing between 12,000 and 15,000 miners, were shut down today and the coal mining industry of the state tonight faces practical paralysis, operators here stated, as a result of the spreading strike of miners who demand immediate wage increases.

Miners said today they were given to understand that the new wage agreement, reached at Washington, D. C., would be affective without delay. Operators, on the other hand, pointed to a clause making the increases contingent upon an advance by the fuel administration in Illinois coal prices, declaring present prices are prohibitive of wage increases.

The Washington agreement provided for an increase of ten cents a ton for mining coal, a flat rate of five dollars a day for day work, and a fifteen per cent increase for yardage and deadwork.

Fifteen of the idle mines are in the district near St. Louis, it was stated at the offices of the Illinois Coal Operators' Association tonight. The rest are scattered between there and this city.

Mines near Peoria and in other upstate sections are expected to be shut down tomorrow.

No indication has been received here as to when Mr. Garfield, the federal fuel administrator, will decide whether Illinois coal prices, as already established, are or are not to be changed.

RUSSIAN WARSHIPS OFFER RESISTANCE

German Fleet Encounters Considerable Opposition

Two German Torpedo Boats Have Been Sunk and Two Others Damaged in Fighting North of Oesel Island.

Apparently there has been no cessation in the rapid program of the Germans to seize in its entirety the Russian Island of Oesel at the head of the Gulf of Finland. But altho German troops now have taken the greater portion of the island, aid expected from their fleet in putting down Russian oppositoin in adjacent waters is meeting with considerable resistance from the Russian warships.

The Russians are disinclined to throw their naval vessels into a general engagement, fearing the superiority of the Germans would open the pathway thru the Gulf of Finland to Petrograd. But in a small battle with torpedo craft and possibly light cruisers the Russians have sunk two German torpedo boats and damaged two others in Soela Sound, to the north of Oesel Island, while the Russians themselves lost a torpedo boat destroyer. The German land forces now are driving hard against the Svorb peninsula, on the southwestern portion of the island of Oesel in an attempt to take batteries at Zerel, which dominate the eastern entrance to the Gulf of Riga.

According to the Berlin war office the Russians in this region are isolated but are resisting desperately. Berlin reports that Abro Island off the southern coast of Oesel and Runo island in the middle of the Gulf of Riga have been occupied by Teutonic troops. It is asserted that 2,400 prisoners, 30 guns, 21 machine guns and several airplanes were captured by the Germans in Oesel.

Troops of the entente allies still are keeping to their trenches in Flanders. The British and French guns are showering the German positions with the usual mass of steel which is thrown upon them prior to an attack, while the Germans at various points, especially in the important salient of the Ypres-Staden railway are replying vigorously.

To the south along the Aisne front the Germans have again attacked the French and succeeded in penetrating their entrenchments. The French immediately counter-attacked and regained the lost ground.

There is every indication that shortly along the Isonzo front in the Austro-Italian zone another big battle will begin. From the head of th Adriatic northward to the Bainsizza plateau intense artillery duels are in progress along the front lines and against the Austrian lines of communication in the rear. Considerable activity also is in progress in the Carso.

That's the reason cornbread is attracting so much attention. Mr. Hoover is asking that more corn products be eaten, especially cornbread.

The annual meeting of the American Hereford Cattle Breeders association was held early this month at Kansas City. Gifford Pinchot was the guest of honor. The expenditure of $60,000 in prize money was authorized for the fairs and expositions of 1918

Gifford Pinchot, representing the food administration, at a meeting of members of the National Swine Growers' association at South Omaha, Nebr., recently stated that 20,000,000 more hogs than are in sight for 1917 are needed. He presented two problems: the necessity of more pork products and the assurance to producers that they would not lose money by raising and finishing hogs. He asks whether a fixed price, based on a definite quantity of corn per 100 pounds of pork at average prices during the entire feeding period would be acceptable to the growers. Immediate action along some line is necessary if the campaign for increased stock production is not to fail.

In 1916 there were 3,513,000 automobiles registered in this country. About 92 per cent of the revenue derived from their licensing is spent on road improvement of some kind. Statistics also show that there are more cars used in the agricultural states than in those states where manufacturing interests predominate Iowa stands first in the list with a car for every eleven persons. From common knowledge the automobile has become a part of the farmer's equipment. The farmer finds the hotor car invaluable in removing the isolation of country life, and he is now willing to concede that good roads which will enable him to use his car at any time in the year, are a necessity. Instead of complaining that good roads are only desired by the automobilist he wishes them built so that he can get the most benefit from his ownership of an automobile.

Reports received by Harry A. Wheeler, Illinois Food Administrator, indicate that farmers in this state are selling off their brood sows to an alarming extent. Many farmers are said to be sacrificing their entire herds. It is the opinion of county agents, stock yards men, packers and market experts that every corn belt farmer should be doubling his hog operations instead of cutting down, for the hog may win the war, and a doubling of that crop by the farmers will add at least a billion dollars to the bank balance of the farmer in the next five years.

Henry Wolfer, formerly head of the Minnesota State Binder Twine Works, has been secured by the Food Administration, to undertake a complete investigation of the sisal and hemp industry and its distribution with a view to action in the reduction of the price. As all farmers know, the price has been forced up 500 per cent since the war began.

A RIGHTEOUS WAR.

United States Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman declares that he has no sympathy with the claim that the United States should not send her troops abroad believing that it is better to fight in France. Attacks of Germans on American defense will mean the same losses as in Paris and London. In part Senator Sherman said:

"War in Europe must be fought in Europe if we care to keep the enemy from our own country. I have no sympathy with the claim that we ought not to send our troops abroad. It is much better to fight on soil in France than in the United States. If we permit the Germans to land troops on our shores we may expect to suffer the same losses they do in Paris and London. The aircraft war that is visiting our cities in Europe would be inflicted upon us. The farther away from home we can fight the enemy the better. It preserves our own cities and our own people.

"It is a righteous war. We were run off the seas by Germany. The only defense we could make was to resist. Germany claimed the right to establish danger zones, to the effect that it blocked the Atlantic ocean to our merchant ships. We want the war to protect our right to navigate the open seas.

DOING FOR COLUMBIA.

I gather up my gun and say: "I'm done with idler's benches;
I'll join the squad that left today for France and muddy trenches,
Or else I'll go to train and hike, in camp at Grant or Taylor;
Or join the crew who ride the bike, nor turn one atom paler."
So off I start without delay to find the soldiers massing
But downward fall my pinions gay, they tell me I'm not passing.
I homeward turn from training camp where I had hoped to lead 'em,
With drooping head and ardor damp, what can I do for Freedom?
But ah, a happy thought has come, came just like I am telling,
"Perhaps 'twill help Columbia some to buy the bonds she's selling."

THE VICKSBURG REUNION.

Many old veterans from this vicinity are now in Vicksburg attending the reunion of survivors of the siege of that place. Vicksburg is the largest and among the most attractive communities in Mississippi. its people were never known but once to be inhospitable. This was under peculiar circumstances. Many of those in whose faces Vicksburg slammed its doors, and who later forced their way in, will next week be honored guests of some of those who shut them out and tried their level best to keep them out, says the Christian Science Monitor.

From the fall of New Orleans, in April, 1862, to the fall of Vicksburg, on July 4, 1863, the little city, at the confluence of the Yazoo and the Mississippi, was the center of both naval and military operations in the West. When New Orleans could no longer withstand Farragut, by water or Butler by land, the Mississippi River was at length thrown open to federal gunboats as far up as Baton Rouge, and, soon afterward to Natchez-under-the-Hill, but the Union forces received a decided check at Vicksburg. In front of Vicksburg the lower Mississippi had played one of its characteristic tricks; that is, it had formed a long and narrow peninsula parallel with the "bluffs" which rise to a considerable height between the city and the river. This gave the channel the form of an inverted "U", so that a boat passing up or down was within range of the guns on the fortified hills for a perilous, and often a disastrous, length of time. Many of Farragut's boats had been sunk in an attempt to run by the fortifications, and this led the army engineers to enter upon the task of cutting a canal across the peninsula, at the point of its junction with the mainland. The first attempt of this kind was almost at the point of success when the lower Mississippi played another of its characteristic tricks, by suddenly rising to flood tide and refilling the cut with the earth that had been excavated by 3000 soldiers and 1200 Negro laborers. The second attempt also was a failure.

In October, 1862, Grant with 48,000 men, was in the neighborhood of Corinth, and, in common with his official superiors in Washington and his associates in the west, regarding Vicksburg as the key to the situation in the great central valley of the country, decided to capture the city. Flag Officer Farragut and Flag Officer Porter—note the titles—had not succeded in silencing the guns on the river side of the city. On June 28, however, Farragut ran past the batteries on the bluffs with two ships, and five gunboats, and on July 1 he formed a junction with the fleet of Captain Davis, which had come down from Memphis. On July 15 Farragut's fleet ran down the river, engaging the batteries, as well as the Confederate ram Arkansas, on the way. Davis meanwhile had ascended the river to Helena and this ended the first organized naval attack on Vicksburg. It was not until November that Grant started from Grand Junction, intending to advance along the Yazoo and attack Vicksburg from the rear, and there were actions at Milliken's Bend, and at Chickasaw Bluffs, numerous movements by General Sherman and General McClernand, much digging of intrenchments, many feints and assaults, several demands for surrender and several positive refusals, and lamentable havoc on both sides, besides indescribable hardships among the besieged civilian population, Farragut poundng from the front and Grant pounding from the rear, before General Pemberton, the brave defenders of the city, yielded. Thus the Mississippi was reopened and the Confederacy was "split in two."

No sooner was the surrender made than Grant sent trainload after trainload of supplies into the city. Everything possible was done to relieve the suffering. Not only food, but clothing, was furnished to the people in abundance. Neither the defeated officers nor the men were subject to unnecessary humiliation. The city was made clean and habitable, and within a few days life within its limits had begun to resume its normal aspects.

The local newspaper publisher had never left his post from the beginning to the end of the struggle, although toward its close, he was obliged to print his journal on wall paper. He gave daily accounts of the progress of the seige and was one of the leading factors in keeping up the courage of the civilians. His case was typical of Vicksburg's pluck, and, in the Fourth of July celebration following the surrender, the orators of the victorious Yankee army were liberal in expressions of admiration and praise of their defeated but courageous foe.

From that hour to this the sectional good feeling, has always existed in Vicksburg, notwithstanding the occasional attempts of a few to disrupt it.

FREE INSTRUCTIONS.

I'm rather tired—say, aren't you?—of folks who tell me what to do. They used to bore me in the past, before we heard the war tramp's blast; they told me how I should behave, where I should spend, where I should save, what I should eat, what I should wear, how long I ought to have my hair. Since war has come it's getting worse; advisers have become a curse. If I don't do just what they say, and by their blue prints go my way, if I don't spend where they elect, and help the cause they deem correct, I should be backed against a wall and punctured by a rifle ball. I am a traitor, punk and foul, if I don't heed them when they howl. I should be fried in rancid lard if I don't come to their back yard, and have them tell me what to do, what paths to walk, what rags to chew. Now, I'm a patriotic man; I want to help the best I can; I want to chip in, left and right, to help our armies win the fight; but all these bluffing, noisy men should leave to me the how and when. I'll gladly dig my final wheel, when comes the courteous appeal. But I am growing tired—aren't you?—of all the loud, abusive crew.

One of the wheels came off the wagon and it was overturned, scattering coal for quite a stretch along the highway. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Mudd had a narrow escape last night when they started to drive home from town, as their horse became unmanageable just as they were leaving the square and dashed down the street near court house. 28 MURRAYVILLE MEN ENDORSE ADVISOR PLAN

Enthusiastic Meeting Held in Community in South Part of County—Mr. Smith Goes to Chapin Today.

A county advisor or agent for Morgan county was brought a step nearer realization yesterday thru the efforts of Sidney Smith, special representative of the United States department of agriculture. Yesterday morning Arthur M. Masters took Mr. Smith to Murrayville in his Cadillac car. There they were met by J. E. Osborne and C. J. Wright. These gentlemen, residents of that community took Mr. Smith thru a part of the Murrayville district, possibly about a third of the district being visited during the day.

In the evening an enthusiastic meeting was held at Murrayville. Mr. C. J. Wright acted as chairman and introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Smith. The government man's talk made clear to all present the special interests in the farm advisor movement just now. The government desires the employment of an advisor at this time because of the great need of increasing crop production and the farmer, too, should have reasons of their own for backing such a movement now.

At the conclusion of Mr. Smith's address short talks were made by Dr. J. W. Hairgrove and F. J. Heinl of this city. During the day twenty eight farmers of the Murrayville community subscribed their names to the list. The action of the agriculturists at Murrayville, if followed by other districts of the county, positively assures Morgan county an advisor. The people of Murrayville are to be congratulated on their spirit of progressiveness displayed at the meeting last night and on the reception accorded Mr. Smith during the day thruout the district.

Mr. Smith will go to Chapin this morning on the Wabash and will be met at that place by Mr. Harold P. Joy who will accompany him thru a part of the Chapin territory. They will cover as much ground as is possible during the day. At night there will be a meeting held at the M. P. church in Chapin.

PATRIOTIC SERVICE SOUL INSPIRING

Vast Audience Greets Evangelist Hanley Tuesday Evening—Spirit of Patriotism Pervaded Gathering—Mr. Hanley Delivered Splendid Address—Music Also a Feature of the Occasion—Afternoon Meeting at Rev. R. B. Wilson's—Announcements for Today.

Pity the reporter who would attempt to do justice to the evening program, as well as to try to paint a setting sun or a delicate flower; as well try to describe the singing of a bird, the music of the spheres or the sound of the ocean waves. It was grand, music, oratory, laughter, tears, enthusiasm, patriotism of the red hot kind, no quarter to slackers or pacifists, glory for the flag and the cause; death to traitors and militarism and a tremendous plea for the country and the flag.

Great honor was shown the Grand Army and Relief Corps, reserved seats and special honor were accorded them. Many flags thruout the building well attested the spirit of the occasion. The music was simply superb and grandly done. The choir is remarkably well trained and showed to the best advantage. A solo, "Keep the Home Fires Burning" was finely sung by Hearne of this city and "That Old Flag; We'll Never Let It Fall" was effectively sung by Mrs. Wm. Barr Brown.

Then Mr. Fisher told how he was with four young Welsch singers who escaped the brutal murder of the Lusitania passenger list and composed a song and music "The Flag of the U. S. A." and he sang it most effectively. "The Star Spangled Banner", "America" "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and other selections were given with a vim that Mr. Hanley said would give the Kaiser cold feet could he hear it. All those who had sons in the war were asked to stand while the audience sang to "America", "God Bless Our Noble Men".

As well try to empty the ocean with a tin cup as to place on paper a correct and just report of the lecture and the attempt will be made to give but a few extracts and epigramatic expressions.

"I greet the audience tonight, the visitors from neighboring towns, the local societies and especially the members of the Grand Army of the Republic. I would rather be able to wear a little bronze button than any insignia in the world. All honor to the noble men who risked their lives for the country; soon the last survivior will lay a wreath on the graves of his comrades and then he too will be borne to the silent city of the dead.

"The Battle Hymn of the Republic has been adopted as the one which all the armies fighting with the allies may sing. We should buy Liberty bonds; if we cannot bear arms in the field stand by the men and the government.

"We are not a warlike people and do not believe in militarism, but when aroused we are dangerous and cannot be beaten and even if nothing else we could fight an invading foe barehanded.

"We are not fully aroused yet but when the first contingent of wounded men comes home then we shall feel more keenly. God pity the man who would malign the country or the flag."

Most noble and glowing tributes were paid Lincoln and McKinley.

"I did not vote for President Wilson but I believe he will stand forth in history as one of the country's great men. We should all stand hard by the government.

"We need a crusade against prejudice. If any foreign born resident cannot cordially stand by the flag he should leave the country. We should stand by our home towns and not buy of Sears, Roebuck & Co., I regret that Roosevelt was not permitted to do as he wished regarding raising a corps to take abroad. Every boy and girl in the land should have a fair and equal chance.

"We need self control. I fear people when they act today and think tomorrow. Our country is of more importance than any party. The men who rule in this country are the kind you choose. Any man in an official position who does not heartily stand by the administration, the country and the flag should be expelled. It is a burning shame to give aid and comfort to the enemy.

"The classes who do not vote are idiots, criminals, paupers and women and one reason is that the women don't want the ballot badly enough. A woman generally gets what she wants; even a husband if she wants one badly enough."

"We are prone to excitement.

"We need a crusade to exalt self sacrifice. The greatest man is the one who gives the most. Too much we have departed from the good ways of our fathers and ever are singing, "Get, Get, Get". This is the hour of sacrifice; we have been getting; now we should give. Once Illinois gave Lincoln, Grant and Logan; now you give us East St. Louis, Springfield and Bill Thompson. Do not say drafted men but selective. Our grandmothers used to look like open umbrellas but now the girls looked like closed umbrellas. We used to say: "Where is my wandering boy tonight?" But now we say: "Where is Mother?. At the picture show.

"We need a crusade for equality and obedience to law. I will fight any man who displays a red flag or who corners food. The man in the brown stone front should obey the law as well as the laborer. While a child was starving a man expended $10,000 decorating a table for a dinner to his dog.

"Australia, Canada, Belgium, Serbia, Rumania have done their best. Noble France and grand England have accomplished wonders but they are tired and it is for us to win victory. America has never failed and never will."

The veterans of the Grand Army were asked to face audience and then were grandly saluted by all with flags.

At the close Dr. Hanley asked all men and boys who would stand by the flag to file by the stage and shake his hand and they did so.

The whole affair was grand and inspiring and could the Kaiser have witnessed it he might have been tempted to cease his brutal butchery.

Announcements.

This morning at 10 o'clock the Hanley and Fisher party will visit the Illinois Woman's college. Dr. Hanley will speak and Mr. Fisher will sing.

This afternoon at State street church Miss Robertson will have a mass meeting for all High school girls right after school. She will speak on "Sweet Sixteen."

Mr. Fisher invites all the boys and girls from 8 to 15 years of age to meet him at Grace church today after school. He will hear the first rehearsal for the Booster Choir.

Tonight the Evangelist will speak on "Repent". He will devote ten minutes to a discussion of the Amusement Question. Many are wondering just what Dr. Hanley has to say about dancing, card playing, etc. So he will satisfy their curiosity this evening.

The business men are working enthusiastically to make the Thursday luncheon at the Odd Fellows' hall at 6 p. m., a great success. Dr. Harker made an announcement concerning it at the meeting last night. Dr. Hanley will speak on "The Soul of Business".

At the close of the meeting tonight all who have sold tickets for the Thursday night banquet are requested to report that the ladies may know for how many to prepare.

Afternoon Meeting.

The Parlor meeting held at the home of Rev. and Mrs. R. B. Wilson was a success in every particular. Nearly 200 women were present. Mr. Fisher with Mr. Voyles as accompaniest sang, "Wear a Smile in Your Heart". As an encore he sang, "My Little Grey Home in the West". Both songs were rendered in a delightful manner. Mrs. Floreth with a few appropriate remarks presented the speaker of the hour. Dr. J R. Hanley, whose subject was "The Women Next Door".

He began by stating that a journey would not be attended by the inconveniences which beset a traveler. And the mind can travel more swiftly than an airship or a wireless message. The tour of the afternoon covered 16,000 miles and no one would be troubled any by sea-sickness.

The first stop was at Havana. In Cuba there is no middle class such as we have in this country, but only two classes, the high and the low. This is a serious disadvantage to any country. The Cuban is the product of three strains of blood, Indian, Negro and Spaniard. All three lives of inheritance are evident as one comes to know the Cuban. At 5 p. m. is Promenade hour in Havana. When one may see everybody out on the street. And such beautiful men and women are not to be seen in any part of the world. But follow these attractive Cuban belles home and you'll find them slouchy and repulsive.

Hayti was the next stop. Here all are colored people. Mrs. Hanley is the first white woman who ever stayed all night on the island.

At Panama one sees the mangnificent achievement of American genius and we may rest assured that our great nation will do as thorough work in the present war as she has done in the construction of the Panama Canal.

Our failure as a nation is in Colonize. Down in Panama they hate Americans. They calls us "hogs". We need to mend our ways so as to change antipathy into friendship.

Venezuela can put Texas in the shade for size and it can make proud Illinois feel small when it comes to feritlity and richness of soil.

At Trinidad, Dr. Hanley witnessed a child wedding. A girl 4 years old was "tied up" to a man 75 years of age.. No wonder that mother counts it a misfortune to rear a girl in such a country. The American women ought to appreciate Christianity for the social position which it has enabled her to hold.

In Jamaica he described a social function which Mrs. Hanley attended She was assigned a big black man as a partner and he was given the burley negro's wife. There is no race problem and no color line is noticed at all.

Dr. Hanley closed his breezy, interesting, instructive lecture with an appeal to American womanhood to reach out a helping hand to "The Woman Next Door". "We ought either to abandon the Monroe Doctrine or else get busy and try to uplift the moral and spiritual life of these close neighbors of ours."

Dr. Hanley completely captivated his audience. No wonder the Redpath Chautauqu Bureau prizes his lectures so highly. Those who hear him once invariably come again. The women will have another opportunity to hear him in a special meeting for them at Grace church Thursday afternoon and again on Friday afternoon.

Cold Settled In His Back

"Foley Kidney Pills always give me prompt relief."—Ed Velton, Rogers, Nebr.

Ed Velton, of Rogers, Neb., writes: "I have used Foley Kidney Pills for backache, the result of catching cold which settled in my back. Foley Kidney Pills always give me prompt relief and I can cheerfully recommend them."

The reason Foley Kidney Pills act so satisfactorily is because they neutralize and dissolve the poisonous waste matter that remains in the blood because the kidneys do not do their work properly in filtering and casting out from the system uric acid and other poisons.

Relief usually follows in a few days and such symptoms as pain in the sides or back, stiff joints, sore muscles, rheumatism, too frequent action of the bladder at night, and other painful and annoying ailments disappear. Foley Kidney Pills contain no harmful ingredients. They are safe as well as quick acting.

EARL MYERS TELLS OF LIFE AT CAMP LOGAN

Son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Myers of Route No. 8 is Member of New Field Artillery Regiment at Texas Cantonment.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Myers of route No. 8 have received an interesting letter from their son, Earl J. Myers, who is a member of the 124th U. S. field artillery stationed at Camp Logan, Houston, Tex. Young Myers tells of a four mile hike the men took one day recently, and gives many details regarding camp life. This is the letter:

Camp Logan, Houston, Tex.
Oct. 5, 1917.

Dear Father and Mother:

Received your letter yesterday. Was on guard last night. We took our hike yesterday. It was slightly warm to about noon. Jesse and I were mounted but Orville had to go afoot. I was one of the markers that marked the trail. We started at 8 o'clock and got back about 12:20 o'clock.

It looked real nice to see the soldiers lined up down the road. The 123rd and the 124th regiments went together. The 122nd regiment went another road. They had their supply wagons along too. There were about 15 or 20 wagons. We went west four miles and then back. I think we have to take one hike every week.

We went out to drill about 3:30 oclock that afternoon and drilled until evening.

Well we had our first instructions on harnessing and handling two horses; you handle the off horse with just one rein. It will be awkward for a few days but it will not take long to learn. We took our first lesson on taking sight with revolvers today also. The lieutenat said that we did extra well for the first.

We have our first call at 6 o'clock in the morning; and at 6:10 we fall in for roll call. We have ten minutes to dress and wash and get in line. (Some few sleep with their clothes on so they can be ready in time). Then at 6:30 we have breakfast and have exercise from 7:30 until 8. Then drill until 11:30 and then dinner at 12 o'clock. Drill call at 1:30 and recall at 4:30. Then we have to clean up for retreat which is at 5:30. They call the names of those that are on regimental guard for the next 24 hours. Then the guards are marched over to the guard house. Then the officer of the guard picks out the ones that look the neatest for orderlies for the next day. The rest are then formed in three reliefs to guard. You are on guard two hours and off four hours. We have supper at 6 o'clock. The three artillery regiments here have changed from Ill. to U. S. Artillery. The second regiment is the 122nd U. S. Field Artillery; the Fourth is 123rd and ours is the 124th U. S. Field Artillery.

The dust is certainly getting deep here now; but I guess the dust is better than the mud. The mud gets pretty deep here during the rainy season and sticks almost like glue.

As it is almost bedtime here will have to close this time. With best regards and love to all,

Earl J. Myers.

JACKSONVILLE PEOPLE HEAR CANADIAN

Sergeant Emke Recites Some Thrilling Stories to Chicago Audiences.

A number of Jacksonville people have had the pleasure of hearing Sergeant Emke of the Canadian forces who is at the present time making a series of addresses at Orchestra Hall, Chicago. His thrilling tales of encounters with the hun at the front line trenches must be graphic and thrilling in the extreme.

According to one of his stories, which is not in the least to be doubted, the Canadians have greatly changed the manner of "trench cleaning" in the last few months. To clean the trenches means clearing them of the dead and wounded Germans after a successful charge. It used to be that the Canadians after an attack of this kind would remove the dead from these trenches and any wounded Germans who were encountered would be given first aid treatment by the squad and stretcher-bearers ordered to take the injured men behind the lines to one of the numerous base hospitals.

In a majority of cases where this aid was given, the wounded man would at the slightest chance sieze a bomb and hurling it, into the midst of the very men, who had given him first aid treatment and sought to save his life, blow them to atoms. This happened so often that now the trench cleaning squad is made up in a different fashion of about ten or twelve men. First comes a soldier with a bayonet, behind him is a bomb thrower, following him are three or four men carrying bombs and frequently a few other men are in the group as assistants.

When a wounded German is reached now he is not sent behind the lines to a base hospital for treatment. No Germans are taken captive by the Canadians. They were not the first to inaugurate this policy as many months ago the German troops are said to have been given orders to bring no Canadians into the prison camps. There is no quarter shown by either side. Another duty of the trench cleaners after a gain of German terrain has been made is to clean out the dugouts. These in many cases are built twenty feet underground.

Formerly when a group of Canadians came upon one of these dugouts, they would call out asking if there were any Germans therein, and demanding that they surrender. Frequently there would be a German among the men concealed in the dugout who could speak English and the reply would be "Yes, we've got a couple of German prisoners down here, come down and help us get them out." The Canadians thinking that some of their own men were inside, an officer and private would descend the inky blackness to aid their comrades. As they would come to the doorway of the room, there would be two big Germans on each side, who would promptly bayonet the Canadians and then seek to induce more of them to come down to their death.

When the Canadians come to one of these dugouts today, the bomber selects one of his choicest explosives and hurls it into the dugout, after the explosion, he calls out, "Who's there?" If there is no answer the squad is satisfied that they have done their work well and pass on to the next. These tactics, which the Canadians and other allied forces have been slow in practicing, have been forced upon them by the action of the Hun. The Germans have used every underhanded advantage it was possible to take on land and on sea. They must be paid back in their own coin.

Good Clothes for Men Who Farm

Men on the farm have "the price" these days of a good many things; automobiles, farm equipment, fine stock; and they want, and there's no reason why they shouldn't have, good clothes. A farmer nowadays dresses as well as a banker or professional man; he ought to.

We Are Fortunate in Having Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes

There's no argument necessary about the price, either; we sell these clothes at prices they're really worth. All you have to do is to decide what you'd like to pay—$12.50, $15.00, $20.00, $25.00, $35.00, for a suit or overcoat; and then pick out the model and pattern you want.

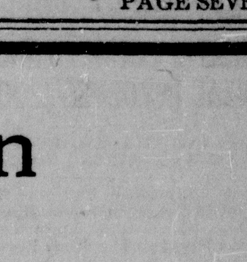

You'll get value for your money; and you'll know it, and you don't know that with the same certainty about any other clothes made.

GREENE COUNTY LAND DEAL INVOLVES $200,000

BIG LAND TRANSACTION IN HILLVIEW DRAINAGE DISTRICT

Louis Lowenstein, Father of Successful Reclamation in the Illinois Valley, Disposes of Farm Interests, the Heaviest Purchaser Being A. L. McClay.

A land deal involving over $200,000 has just been consummated by which Louis Lowenstein and his two sons, Carl and Guy, relinquish their holdings and cease operations in the Hillview Drainage and Levee District in Greene county with the harvesting of the present crop. The deals aggregate over $200,000, of which sum the purchases of Albert and Edmund McClay amount to $177,250, this embracing 600 acres of hill land lying south of the C. & A. railroad and not a part of the Hill view Drainage and Levee District. This hill land brought $80.00 per acre and includes the Lowenstein residence in Hillview. The McClays leased 350 acres of bottom land from Louis Lowenstein, lying in the district at $15.00 per year cash rent, with the option of purchase at any time within five years at $175.00 per acre, this arrangement being figured in this article as equivalent to a sale. Carl and Guy Lowenstein sold to the McClays outright 360 acres of land in the district at $150.00 per acre, and also sold to the McClays approximately $20,000 worth of personal property, including horses, cattle, hogs and farm machinery.

Louis Lowenstein sold to Dr. E. J. Peck, of White Hall, 100 acres of Swan Lake land at $150.00 per acre, and sold to Claude Lowenstein 73 acres of Buck Lake land at $131.50 per acre, both tracts being in the district.

Operations Net $10,000 Yearly

By this deal Louis Lowenstein ceases his operations in the Hillview Drainage and Levee District. Twenty-five years ago he bought the land for $12.50 per acre, and for the past fifteen years his operations have netted him $10,000 annually. Before his venture in the bottoms reclamation work of a haphazard sort had been carried on in an ineffectual attempt to protect crops against the flood waters of the Illinois river. Mr. Lowenstein foresaw the necessity of levee and drainage work on a more elaborate and substantial scale, and he became the leading spirit in the movement whereby the Hillview Drainage and Levee District was organized, and engineering plans in keeping with his advanced ideas were adopted. With no model of the kind to serve him as a guide and inspiration, he set out on the great reclamation enterprise that has proven equal to the heaviest floods that have ever come down the Illinois valley, a matter that has been determined by records carefully maintained, and the Hillview engineering enterprise became a model for similar works of this character all over the Mississippi valley, giving Mr. Lowenstein high standing as a successful and determined pioneer in the only proper method of reclaiming the waste land of Illinois. His hand was seen in the more advanced drainage laws of Illinois that were put through the legislature by the late Col. A. C. Matthews of Pittsfield, and in many ways Mr. Lowenstein has built an enduring foundation that will be to his everlasting honor. He has served as president of the Association of Drainage Commissioners of Illinois, and has also appeared before committees of the United States congress who had to do with the flood problem. He is one of the very first citizens of White Hall.

Enlarged and Improved Holdings

The deal brings forward another character who has shown genius and generalship in building up a mighty orchard business. Less than twenty-five years of age, A. L. McClay has had charge of the business of his father practically since the latter's death four years ago, and whose remains rest with the honored veterans of the Civil war in the White Hall cemetery. About two years ago young McClay took over the business from his mother and has enlarged and improved the 1,000-acre orchard, located in the vicinity of Hillview, northwest of White Hall. This year he added 200 acres more of orchard by purchasing the interests of his uncle, George McClay, adjoining, and the latter is now completing a handsome residence on North Main street in White Hall.

It would appear that young McClay would be content with the possession and the operation of the now more than 1,200 acres of orchard, but his brother Edmund now appears in the business, and the purchase this week of the Lowenstein land gives them possession of what would readily convey an adequate conception of their land holdings by those who are familiar with the lay of the land in the vicinity of Hillview and Patterson, which extends from the brick school house on the Sandridge east almost continuously to Patterson and as far north as Bishop Spring.

60,000 Barrels of Choice Apples

This year's crop of apples from the McClay orchard aggregates 60,000 barrels of choice apples, worth from $8.00 to $10.00 per barrel, and the culls are being eagerly bought up in bulk on the ground by commission men at a dollar per bushel. This is a huge business, but it is being managed successfully by the energy and brains of A. L. McClay, Jr.

Will Farm Bottom Land

The hill land just acquired will be utilized for orchard purposes, and the bottom land will be devoted to farming and stock raising. Mr. McClay has become a great alfalfa exponent, and recent experiments with it have encouraged him to go into alfalfa growing on a more extensive scale. The revenue from his stock business this year has been enormous, and he is credited with operations along other lines that have netted huge sums.

The McClay orchard had its inception about 1899 with the coming of A. L. McClay, Sr. He was followed by Geo. McClay, but the latter made it a point not to exceed 200 acres in his operations, after it had been determined that orcharding in Greene county could be made highly successful. George has twitted his brother on his larger operations, saying that A. L. would not be content until his orchard extended from White Hall to Peoria. The McClays have practically made their home on their premises, but have always been identified with White Hall in a substantial way, some of them having resided here now and then and George now being a permanent citizen with his retirement.

FIGHT FOR YOUR LIFE

Duty Demands Robust Health

Fight to get it and keep it

Fight—fight day in and day out to prevent being overtaken by ills and ails. Keep wrinkles from marring the cheek and the body from losing its youthful appearance and buoyancy. Fight when ill-health is coming with its pallor and pains, defects and declining powers. Fight to stay its course and drive it off.

But fight intelligently. Don't fight without weapons that can win the day for without the intelligent use of effective weapons the pallor spreads and weakness grows and a seemingly strong man or woman ofttimes becomes a pray to ills after all.

You will not find this class of persons in the hypoferrin ranks. No unhealthy, dull, draggy, droopy persons in that line. It is a hale, hearty, robust aggregation of quick-steppers who view life in a joyous frame of mind and are mentally and physically equal to any emergency. Hypoferrin stands for sound body and sound mind—it is the invigorating tonic of the times—powerful and unsurpassed as a health restorer, vitalizer and health preserver. Fight to hold the vigor of a sound body with hypoferrin or to stay the process of decay and restore health and strength—you win. This tonic of amazing, wonder-working properties has been approved by physicians as a restorer and safeguard of health. It is a thoroughly scientific preparation of the very elements necessary to tone up the stomach and nerves, to build strong, vital tissue, make pure blood, firm flesh and solid, active, tireless muscles.

Hypoferrin contains those mighty strength-producing agents, lecithin-and-iron peptonate, in a form best adapted to benefit the body and its organs. Its ingredients are absolutely necessary to the blood. In nine cases out of ten a run-down condition, sallow, pale complexions that "all in" feeling and frail bodies are due to lack of lecithin-and-iron peptonate in the system.

Your mental and physical strength and endurance depends upon a lecithin-and-iron peptonate laden blood; steady, dependable nerves and a healthy stomach. With these you can meet life at any angle.

This wonder tonic, hypoferrin, which is as perfect as science can get to nature, meets every essential demand of the human organism. It is safe and sure and a boon to run-down, worn-out men and women. Hypoferrin means nature's own way of bringing color to the cheeks, strength to the body and keeping the vigor and buoyancy of youth. The powder and paint way of effecting beauty is not needed by hypoferrin women and girls. Their blood, filled with nature's beauty stores, creates conditions that give firmness and grace to the body and the glow of health to the cheeks.

No need of going through life sickly and always feeling miserable in this age of medical science. Join the hypoferrin ranks. It puts into you the springy snap and vigor you ought to have and puts life into your body and mind that inspires the confidence that you confront the world on an equal footing with anyone.

Hypoferrin may be had at your druggist's or direct from us for $1.00 per package. It is well worth the price. The Sentanel Remedies Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.

ON CASH BASIS

MOTHER! DON'T TAKE CHANCES IF CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Clean Little Liver and Bowels

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, Mother. If coated or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailmen, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." —Adv.

It Built Him Up and Made Him Strong

Newaygo, Mich.—"My little boy was in a delicate, weak, emaciated condition and had a cough so we had to keep him from school for a year. DAIRYING ONE OF BEST "CASH CROPS" FOR FARMER

There was a time when the farmer was known as "one year pay" and he was charged accordingly. Those were the days when many farms were one crop places and the main reliance was in that one staple, whether it was corn, wheat, cotton or some other crop.

But the farmer, as all other business men, has progressed until now there are few months when he does not "cash in" on something from his place. In this section particularly, within the last few years the dairy industry has been making rapid strides, so that today this city has about it some of the finest dairy herds in the state and they are paying their owners handsome incomes on the investment.

Dairying on some of the farms is the main stay, on others a sideline. In either case it brings returns that are not only prompt in arriving but satisfying in the extreme. Butterfat is a "cash crop." In other words the check comes in every week instead of once a year, and just now these checks are running higher than ever before because of the demand for creamery products.

The town that boasts one or more creameries has something that is of distinct value not only to the farmers living adjacent, but to every merchant in the city The hauling of cream to the creamery means that the farmer makes at least a semi-weekly visit to town. And the town visited regularly is the town where he does his buying.

Then in addition to the cash that the farmer receives his dairy herds stores up for him future farm dividends by returning to the soil much that the crop raising has removed. The increased fertility of the farm that boasts a herd of cows gives it a big lead over the farm that has none.

The man with a silo and a herd of cows will feed his live stock far cheaper and receive in return far more, year by year, than the men who sells his grain. The silo is the greatest utilizer of what once was regroed as waste material that exists on the farm today, and in addition it gives to the animal succulence which a few years ago was thought impossible in the winter time.

Proper care and proper feeding of a good dairy herd means more money, greater independence and better farm land for the farm owner and they will bring in closer touch and relationship with his brother in town There cannot be too many herds of well bred cattle about this city.

IN FIVE MINUTES! NO INDIGESTION, GAS OR SOUR, ACID STOMACH

The Moment "Pape's Diapepsin" Reaches the Stomach All Distress Goes

"Really does" put upset stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness due to acid fermentation in five minutes—that—just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach antacid and regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments and turns sour, you belch gas and eructate undigested food or water; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with undigested waste, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of "Pape's Diapepsin" is worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the quickest, surest antacid for the stomach in the world.—Adv.

Bevo is a great favorite in the Army Canteens, where none but pure, soft drinks may be sold. After drill or march, you are sure to see a long line of hot and dusty-throated soldier boys making a bee-line for Bevo. They know that there lies complete satisfaction, full refreshment and pure wholesomeness.

At home or abroad — at work or play — between meals or with meals, you will appreciate what we have done for you in making this triumph in soft drinks.

You will find Bevo at inns, restaurants, groceries, department and drug stores, picnic grounds, baseball parks, soda fountains, dining cars, in the navy, at canteens, at mobilization camps and other places where refreshing beverages are sold.

LIBERAL BUYING ADVANCES MARKET

Liquidation and Short Selling Reported Over Done—Corn Closes Firm.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Liberal buying on the part of strong houses together with accompanying assertions that liquidation and short selling had been overdone brought about material advances today in the corn market. Prices closed firm 1¼c to 1¾c net higher at $1.14 to $1.14⅛ December and $1.09¾ May. Oats finished ⅛@⅜c off to ⅜c up, and provisions unchanged to 80c higher.

Oats were unsettled by the closing out of spreads between the December and May options. Rural complaints of car scarcity received much notice. Shipping demand for lard and ribs put some firmness into provisions.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK MARKET
Kansas City Stock Yards, Oct. 15.—Cattle receipts here last week were 109,504 head, exclusive of 10,650 calves. The cattle supply established a new world's record for one week's supply of cattle at any market, exceeding Chicago's biggest week, formerly the record, by about 5,000 head. Stocker and feeder purchases for shipment to country points aggregated 46,000 head, the season's biggest week, 7,000 more than in previous week, and 6,000 more than same week last year. Prices declined 40 to 60 cents on country grades, some cases more, and at the end a good many low priced cattle were carried over to this week. The supply Monday this week was 41,000 head, a number sufficiently large to keep the situation strictly in favor of buyers. Yearlings are in greatest supply, and sell at $6. to $7.75 for good red cattle, with White Faces bringing a premium, some fancy ones weighing 700 pounds Monday this week at $10.25. Demand for feeding steers has been stronger than for stock cattle, sales at $8.60@$11.00, some fancy fleshy steers for a short feed as high at $14.75 last week. Early frost over a good portion of the grazing territory is hastening shipments, and this is doubtless the best time of the year to buy, price at the lowest point, and a complete variety from which to make sedections. Stock cows and heifers declined 40 to 60 cents last week, a good many carried over, prices unevenly lower Monday this week; most sales at $6 to 7.50. Possibly this may be the last big week in cattle receipts this fall, though there will be a good run for several weeks yet. Immunized stock hogs necessarily followed the break of $1 to $1.50 in fat hogs since the middle of last week, including a loss of 25 to 50 cents Monday this week. Prices are changing rapidly, and may soon be down to 16 cents a pound. Feeding lambs are 25c lower Monday, one lot of choice 52 pound lambs at $17.50, most of the good lambs $17.50; a drove of 300 choice young Colorado breeders Monday of this week at $16, 122 pounds average, choice young light weight ewes up to $17.50, plainer ones $13, feeders $10 to $12.

STOCKS MAKE MATERIAL RECOVERIES

Undertone of List of Ten Nervous and Hesitant—U. S. Steel Prominent Thruout Session.

New York, Oct. 16.—Stocks made material recoveries today from recent minimums, but the undertone of the list of ten was nervous and hesitant. Definite denial of various adverse rumors served to sustain prices after the first hour. Shorts covered extensively in all the more active issues, their operations contributing largely to the general rebound. United States Steel was prominent thruout the session for its relative strength. Steel again supplied virtually one third of the day's total of 1,000,000 shares.
Gains in other leaders were no less substantial.
Bonds were irregular, the trend in investments being slightly lower. Liberty 2½s moved in the narrow range of 99.70 to 99.76.
Total sales (par value) aggregated $6,450,000.
United States bonds (old issues) were unchanged on call.

CRISIS OF WOMAN'S LIFE

Wagoner, Okla.—"I never get tired of praising Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because during Change of Life I was in bed two years and had two operations, but all the doctors and operations did me no good, and I would have been in my grave today had it not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which brought me out of it all right, so I am now well and do all my housework, besides working in my garden. Several of my neighbors have got well by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. VIOLA FINICAL, Wagoner, Okla.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and dizziness should be heeded by middle-aged women. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has carried many women safely through the crisis.

Every Firestone dealer is ready to show you and explain new features that greatly increase mileage

That motorists find extra values in Firestone Tires is proved by the fact that our sales increased 72 per cent this year up to Sept. 1st. Our total business this year will exceed $60,000,000.

FIRESTONE advances, never stands still. Every year Firestone means still More Miles per Dollar.

New features are incorporated in the present output. So important that every dealer wants to show them to you. See the cross section and note:

More Cushion Stock: More pure rubber between fabric and tread to save the body of the tire from shocks and bruises and to increase resiliency.

More Rubber Between Layers: Separating the plies of fabric by an elastic wall which allows free play without friction.

Reinforcement in Bead and Side Wall: Greatly increases the strength at the bead, at the junction of tire and rim, and raises the point of bending to the widest part of the tire. This one feature alone adds miles and miles to the service of the tire.

Wherever Firestones are for sale you can see this section of tire and gain an inside knowledge that will teach you to buy Most Miles per Dollar.

REGARDING SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' INSURANCE BILL.

The full program of the government regarding soldiers' and sailors' insurance has been made public by the Treasury department.

Provision is made for family allowances, for re-education of wounded and cripples, for compensation in case of death or injury without cost and for the additional protection of insurance at very small cost.

The entire military and naval establishment, including the coast guard, naval reserves, national naval volunteers, nurses, etc., are eligible for this new war insurance.

The contract for the insurance has been drawn up and plans for putting it into immediate operation will be taken up Tuesday at the war insurance conference which has been called by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo.

A committee of three representatives from each of the thirty two national cantonments, each committee consisting of a commissioned officer, a noncommissioned officer, and an enlisted man, has been detailed to attend the conference. Twenty five representatives from the navy also will attend.

Speciment Contract.

The speciment contract which has been made public by the secretary is based on the age of 25 and is for $5000. The premium is $3.30 per month. The insurance itself is payable in installments of $28.75 per month in case of death or total disability.

The $5000 policy begins with a monthly premium of $3.15 at the age of 15 years, 16 years and 17 years; increases to $3.20 per month for the age of 18, 19 and 20; to $3.23 per month for the ages of 21, 22 and 23; to $3.30 per month for the ages of 24 and 25; to $3.35 per month for the ages of 26 and 27; to $3.40 per month for the age of 28; to $3.45 per month for the ages of 29 and 30; to $3.50 a month for the age of 31, with progressive increases for ages above those given.

The minimum amount of insurance is $1000, the maximum $10,000. The monthly premium for a $10,000 policy is only $6.60.

Aid to Families.

Aid to families is available only to enlisted men and to members of training camps. An enlisted man is required to make an allotment out of his pay for the support of his wife and children.

The compulsory allotment to a wife or children shall not be less than $15, and it shall not exceed one half of his pay.

In addition the government will pay a monthly allowance, ranging from $5 for one motherless child, or $15 for a wife without children, up to a maximum of $50.

If the man makes an allotment to certain other dependent relatives the government will also pay them an allowance which may equal the difference between 50 and the allowance paid to the wife and children.

Compensation for death or disability resulting from injuries or disease applies to commissioned officers and army and navy nurses as well as to the enlisted men.

Where the injury or disease is caused by the willful misconduct of the man, compensation will not be paid.

The increased compensation in case of death runs from a minimum of $20 monthly to a motherless child or $25 monthly to a childless widow, to a maximum of $75 monthly to a widow and several children.

In case of total disability the monthly compensation runs from a minimum of $30 if the injured man has neither wife nor child living to a maximum of $75 if he has a wife and three or more children living, with $10 a month extra if he has a widowed mother dependent upon him. The insurance is granted without medical examination, and the government assumes the entire war risk and the entire cost of administration. The rates charged are net peace rates.

Sylvester Sheppard and Clyde Sturdy, both of Lynnville, have returned from a visit with the soldiers. They found the boys generally well, in good spirits, enjoying the daily routine and fitting into soldier life very well.

QUALITY ALWAYS

It is true that with a great many lines of merchandise it is price that speaks the loudest, but this is not true of drugs. You can get drugs at most any price, but you cannot get high quality drugs. Thousands of different kinds of drugs come from foreign countries, where even the natives know how to adulterate them. It takes wise drug buying to eliminate these adulterations, and buy judiciously.

When you make a purchase at our stores you get the advantage of our experience. You can be absolutely assured of the highest quality in every drug and chemical that is purchased from our stock.

KENTUCKIAN QUARREL RESULTS IN MURDER

UNREQUITED LOVE AND JEALOUSY CAUSE OF CRIME

Biddy Stevenson is Killed by Elza Hayes — Hayes Walks to Police Station and Gives Himself Up — Coroner to Hold Inquest Today.

Elza Hayes shot and instantly killed Biddy Stevenson at the home of Louis West on the North Main street road at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. After the shooting Hayes walked to the city, went to the police station and surrendered to Sergeant Wannamaker and was locked in a cell.

Unrequited love and jealousy on the part of Stevenson for Lucy Abbott, a half sister of Hayes', was the cause that led up to the tragedy. All of the parties concerned are Kentuckians and came from Wayne county in that state.

Hayes has been living in this city and vicinity for the past two years. Stevenson came to the city Monday, following Lucy Abbott and her mother, Lizzie Abbott, from Kentucky. The women arrived here Saturday. Mrs. Abbott went to the home of Elza Hayes in East Independence avenue and the daughter, Lucy Abbott, went to the home of Louis West who is married to Hayes' sister.

Stevenson who has been married and divorced from his wife, became enamored of Lucy Abbott. Evidently she did not return his love. This did not deter him and when she left Kentucky he followed her.

Tuesday afternoon about 5 o'clock he went to the West home. West was engaged in picking apples. Stevenson told West that he intended to marry the Abbott girl or kill her. He followed West to the house and forced his way in but later left.

Tuesday evening he returned to the West home about 8 o'clock. Elza Hayes and his brother, John Hayes, were there. John Hayes warned Stevenson not to attempt to enter the house. Stevenson, according to the story that the Hayes brothers tell, drew a knife and attacked them saying he would "kill the whole damn family." It was then that Elza Hayes drew a revolver and shot Stevenson.

The weapon used was a 32 calibre Smith and Wesson. Hayes fired at Stevenson five times, two of the bullets taking effect. The one that caused death entered the back near the right shoulder blade and took a course toward the left side and evidently pierced the heart. The other struck the right shoulder blade and apparently went stright into the body, tho Dr. A. M. King who made the examination was of the opinion that it would not have proved fatal. But little blood was visible on the surface, most of the hemorrhage being internal.

Elza Hayes, who did the shooting, when seen at the police station last night talked unreservedly of the affair. He said that he had never seen Stevenson before and did not know him when he, Hayes, lived in Kentucky. He said, however, that Stevenson came here with a reputation of being a bad man and that when he saw the knife and saw him attacking his brother he pulled the revolver and fired.

Surrenders to Wannamaker

Sergeant Wannamaker said that when Hayes entered the police station he sat down in a chair and said, "Well, I am your man, lock me up." He seemed very cool and collected but later broke down and cried. Hayes is 26 years of age and has a wife and three children. He has been working for Elmer Moody and told the reporter that he had gone to the country Tuesday and secured a job husking corn. He seems to be a well behaved man and has always borne a good reputation since coming to this vicinity.

Stevenson, the dead man, appears to be about 40 years of age. He is of light complexion. Nothing of much value in identification or for locating his relatives was found on his person. He carried a cheap watch and a picture of himself and a woman with a small child, presumably his wife, and also had a picture of a girl. There also was a letter from some friend who had enlisted in the national army and was at Camp Taylor.

After the shooting the police and sheriff's offices were notified and also Coroner Rose. Coroner Rose and Deputy Sheriff Stice went to the scene and made arrangements for having the body brought to the city. Coroner Rose searched the vicinity where Stevenson fell and found the dead man's knife opened lying beside him in the ditch. The body was brought to Gillham's undertaking parlors. The inquest will be held this afternoon. When the Coroner and Deputy Stice arrived at the police station they found Hayes under lock and key.

CASE COMMITTEE PLANS WINTER'S WORK

At a meeting of the case committee of the Social Service league held Monday evening various matters of a routine nature were taken up and disposed of, and plans for the winter's work were informally discussed. It is realized that the calls for help during the coming months will be many, and the committee hopes to have the co-operation of all charity organizations in Jacksonville in its work of relieving actual suffering. A careful investigation will be made in each case and no opportunity overlooked for giving aid. This winter more than has been true at any previous period, there should be an earnest effort to discriminate between the genuine cases of need and those which cannot be so classed.

All cases of absolute want and destitution, as well as those of children who are not receiving proper care, should be reported to members of the case committee or to Miss Weller, Ill. phone 26. This will insure prompt relief in all worthy cases.

TO SPEAK AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH TONIGHT

DR. BAYLIS WILL TALK OF WAR CONDITIONS.

Admission to Lecture is Free—Lecturer Has Traveled Over Many of the Battlefields of Europe.

Dr. Charles T. Baylis of New York will speak at Central Christian church tonight under the auspices of the state council of defense. The lecture is at eight o'clock and is free.

Dr. Baylis is known as one of the most distinguished and outstanding figures on the American lecture platform today. He has for years enjoyed a coast to coast reputation, not only as an eminent thinker and writer on social problems, but also as an extremely entertaining lecturer on European travel subjects. The secrets of his great power on the platform are his striking personality, his wonderful familiarity with all phases of life, his deep and ever-broadening sympathy with all classes and conditions of men, and his epigrammatic manner of speech.

Dr. Baylis' travels over the battlefields of Europe were accompanied by some of the most thrilling experiences of his eventful life. Being acquainted with many of the diplomats of Europe, it was possible for him to traverse forbidden territories and see first hand the tragic conditions that have sickened and saddened the world. He was the last civilian to be allowed to travel thru the devastated and ruined cities and this was possible owing to his having a military pass from Major General von Bissing.

The Hamilton Spectator in commenting on Dr. Baylis' lecture had the following press notice:

One of the most interesting lectures on Belgium yet heard in this city was that given by Dr. Charles T. Baylis, writer, speaker and publicist, of Brooklyn, N. Y., in the Grand Opera House. Dr. Baylis is a speaker of great ability and his thrilling description of conditions thruout desolate Belgium following the invasion of the German army was of such incessant interest that his audience found itself constantly keyed to the highest point of expectation. One picture, taken shortly after a terrible battle, showed the body of a horse suspended in the limbs of a high tree, where it had been blown by a German shell. The faces of the refugees bore a never-to-be forgotten look of mingled horror and sadness, as they fled from their burning homes or huddled together like a great herd of lost sheep.

WELCOME MEETING AT SALVATION ARMY

Sunday evening was the welcome meeting of our new officers, Capt. and Mrs. Nelson, who have come into our midst to work and toil for the Master. They were given a hearty hand shake by all, and many pledged themselves to stand by the new captain. The service was of benefit to all, many of the comrades giving in their personal testimonies. Later came the preaching. The captain's subject was, "The Spirits Call." His predecessors were Lieutenants Smith and Estill, who have gone to work elsewhere in the army.

WHITE HALL STATIONS ADOPT STRINGENT RULE

ALL BUSINESS MUST BE TRANSACTED OVER BUSINESS WINDOWS.

Order to Be Enforced to Relieve Congestion of Loafers in Offices—Alton Office Overhauled—Other News of White Hall Community.

White Hall, Oct. 16—George Bell arrived last week from Magdalena, New Mexico, to which place he had gone on account of the serious condition of George Gardiner, who had suffered injuries in an automobile accident. On arrival at Magdalena, Mr. Bell learned that Mr. Gardiner had gone to Santa Monica, Calif., where he was improving satisfactorily from his nervous shock, and that in a general way his condition was satisfactory.

The railroad stations at White Hall have both adopted a stringent rule that if carried out will require all business to be transacted over the business windows and thus relieve the congestion of loafers in the offices. The rule has been tried in previous years at most rail road way points, but was continued but a short time. The renewal of the effort will be watched with interest, and a bulletin service will be inaugurated to name the guys who first succeed in breaking the White Hall rule. The Burlington people desire to increase the office force by the addition of a third operator, but none can be found. The C. & A. office has undergone an overhauling, and new names to the force are Henry Wemken and Leland Andrews, the latter succeeding Henry Peters, resigned, and the former being a new addition in the capacity of yard clerk.

Mrs. J. A. Simpson returned last week from a sojourn with relatives in Ohio.

Frank Dillman has returned from New Franklin, Mo., to accept a clerkship in the People's Bank.

The annual high school carnival will be held Friday afternoon, preceded by a comic parade at 3:30 o'clock. The carnival has been an extensive affair in the past, and has attracted large crowds. Larger preparations than ever before have been made for Friday afternoon, and it promises to be quite a revenue producer and a fun maker.

Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Howard and children are here from Holbrook, Neb., for a stay among relatives. Mrs. Howard is a granddaughter of Mrs. Isabelle Ballow.

The local Red Cross chapter made a shipment of supplies Saturday to Chicago headquarters, but it contained no playing cards, tobacco or matches.

A regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association was held Monday afternoon.

George Berlime returned from Jacksonville Tuesday morning, reporting the condition of his son quite favorable. Sam was recently found lying alongside the C. & A. track near Hillview in an unconscious condition, the buggy in which he was riding having evidently been struck by a train, and he was left in the wreckage for several hours before being found. His right leg was broken, and he suffered minor injuries, causing him to be taken to Passavant hospital for treatment.

Advices From Soldiers.

It appears that there is not a cantonment, field, barracks or fort in the country that does not have one or more representatives from White Hall, a fact that is more and more swelling the pride of the patriotic citizens of this community. The latest communication is from Leroy Richert from Camp Jackson, Columbia, S. C., to his father, Charles Richert, the latter being the dean of White Hall business men. Leroy is a member of company C, 396th Engineers, and under date of October 9th he writes as follows:

"Our company has been cut down to about 95 men, and there are six companies, A to F, in this regiment of engineers. We eat and sleep in the same barracks, sleeping up stairs and eating down below. The shower baths and toilet are by the side of the barracks of each company. We received our rifles the first of the week, and have been doing some heavy drilling the past few days. Most of it is squad drill the first part of the day, and then in the afternoon it is mostly company drill. They say that after we master the rifle drill and target we will next take up bridge building, rope splicing, digging trenches, railroad building and all kinds of road construction.

"What I have been able to find out so far is that the engineers have the hardest and best branch of the service, because we do not only do the same amount of drilling, but have to do all this and other work besides. But of course when actually fighting we are behind the cavalry, infantry and artillery, making ammunition stores and bringing up supplies. Our only time to fight is when we are called upon by those ahead or when they retreat we have to destroy everything we leave and blow up ammunition, stores, ets.

"What I can do so far is that if we are in war, by spring I think I will be among the first to go, because the engineers play an important part at the beginning. Most of these boys are from Florida and could stand more work in the spring than any other company of engineers, because they would be better acclimated.

"On Monday of last week I was "roped" in as one of the two buglers from my company. We practice every day except Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday, from 2 p. m. to 1:45 p. m. There are twelve in all, two from each company, and at reveille every day we make "some noise." The other boy is from Orlando, Florida, and he plays trombone, too, and is anxious to see the band start. I think I will like the bugler corps all right. Of course it takes a little time to develop an iron lip, but so far I have been making good time all I need is practice. They say I will go on next week for one day. Each fellow takes a turn every twelfth day, so it is not made so hard. Since I have become bugler I do not have to police around quarters in the morning or be a K. P. (kitchen police) once every three weeks, but we all have to play for retreat every day, also guard mounting. When we are out on the road (drill) the buglers do not carry rifles, but have a Colt's automatics instead, so that relieves us of quite a bit of weight. We also walk in separate file at one side with the officers and stay with them when we fall out.

"Up by the observation tower this week the Y. M. C. A. put up a tent that will seat 3,000, and on Tuesday I heard the Mikado, a Japanese opera. The players were right from New York, and all are artists, working for the Y. M. C. A. They will probably visit all the southern camps. This afternoon they are going to hold services in the tent, and I am going up.

"In town yesterday the streets and especially street cars were simply loaded down with soldiers. Over the People's Bank, the Woman's Civic League have a room for writing, reading, billiards, dancing and also a cafeteria where we can get a fine meal for about 35c or 40c, while elsewhere it would cost 50c or 75c. It seems that the people of Columbia are doing lots of work to help the boys here, and it is certainly appreciated by the boys. Next Wednesday afternoon our foot ball team will play the machine gun team and the winners will play South Carolina University at the state fair next week, so I expect the camp will be turned loose on that day if we win.

"About 75 of the engineering boys left this week for Washington, D. C. They are all lumber and saw mill men, so guess they will be used in shipbuilding."

Increase Production

County Agent An Emergency Measure

To encourage a more permanent agriculture—to stimulate maximum production in 1918—to furnish more food to our Allies. These are the purposes congress seeks to accomplish in the bill appropriating $4,000,000 for county agent work in the United States. $140,000 of this sum is available for use in Illinois. $2100 will be applied toward the expense of the maintenance of the Morgan County Farm Bureau when its organization is completed and a county advisor is employed.

It will be necessary to have 325 members of the Morgan County Farm Bureau before the federal funds are available, and Morgan and Scott County farmers have joined hands to build up this membership in this community in the next three weeks.

Twenty six counties in Illinois now have county advisors. Several of these have been employed for over five years, and are making good in their respective counties

The county bureaus are usually organized for a period of three years with a membership fee of $10 per year, and this is the basis on which the Morgan County Bureau is organizing. A number of counties in Illinois have passed their first period of three years and when the time has come to either reorganize or drop the work, these counties have reorganized with a stronger and a larger membership fee.

Champaign County for example, was slow in organizing the first time but when they reorganized recently, it was with an increased membership and a larger membership fee.

Sangamon County has just organized and effected their permanent organization Saturday with a membership of 325. De Kalk and Kankakee counties are the two first counties in Illinois to employ advisors and now after five years nearly every county that touches either of these two counties has an organization and a county advisor.

The fact is recognized that where county advisers have been employed for several years the average crop production has been materially increased, and it is this fact that was an influential factor in determining the course of urging and promoting the organization of a farm bureau and the employment of a county adviser in every county. If the county adviser means a larger crop yield, he means a greater profit for the farmer.

And this is not all. Besides endeavoring to co-operate with and assist the farmer in the solution of some of his farm problems, the county adviser serves as a clearing house for the exchange of ideas of the best practices within the county. He may assist in the organization of boys and girls pig and calf clubs,—in the extension of the various community enterprises among the farmers of the county. In short he is the servant of the farmers of the county and as such has proven himself a most valuable factor in a better community spirit.

Let every farmer in Morgan and Scott counties get under this movement today and send your name for membership to the Morgan County Farm Bureau.
